We support our denomination.

Excitement Shaped

We tend to pursue specific, short-term, high visibility projects so our people can be stimulated by seeing the results of God at work in the world.

Leader Shaped

We have confidence in our pastor or the leader of our missions ministry and generally support what he or she recommends.

Needs Shaped

When there is a crisis in the world or in our country, or where we discover people have great needs, we get involved.

Participation Shaped

We undertake ministry where our people can participate on a regular basis.
We benefit by growing more fruitful disciples in our church.

We have an understanding of God's purposes for our missions ministry. We proactively organize and direct our missions efforts to fulfill these purposes.

Relationship Shaped

We help people we know, love, and trust.
Our focus is on our friends and those we know.
